A Chance of a Lifetime

For the first time in decades, this rare property has been offered to the market! Spanning 1,420 m² of prime residential land, it features a cottage full of potential. Whether you envision renovating it into a cozy home or transforming it into a unique Airbnb, the possibilities are endless.

Additionally, there's an opportunity to acquire an extra 2,171 m², expanding the total to over 3,500 m². Located in the thriving community of Allansford, where new homes are rapidly emerging, this property presents exciting development opportunities, including potential unit development (STCA).
