Charming Home in a Convenient Location

This charming property at 14-16 Thomson Street, Forbes, is an ideal choice for first-home buyers or investors looking for a practical and well-maintained home in a convenient location. Situated on a spacious 809.4 sqm corner block, the home offers plenty of room for outdoor activities and future potential.

Inside, the home features three bedrooms, including a versatile third bedroom or sleepout at the rear. The north-facing living room fills the space with natural light, creating a warm and inviting atmosphere. The central dining room and kitchen provide a functional layout, with ample storage to meet the needs of a growing family.

Comfort is assured year-round with ducted evaporative air conditioning, ceiling fans, and a wood heater for cozy winters.

The property also boasts excellent outdoor amenities, including a double colour bond shed with a concrete floor, perfect for storage or hobbies. A garden shed, complete with power and a concrete floor, adds further practicality. The 16-panel solar system is an attractive feature, offering energy efficiency and potential cost savings.

Located close to schools and day care facilities, this home is perfectly positioned for families or tenants, making it a standout opportunity in the Forbes market. Don't miss the chance to secure this tidy and well-equipped home!
