Positioned east of the Sir James Hardy Way roundabout & where passing traffic is largely nearby neighbours, this property is nestled in a peaceful, well-established pocket of Woodcroft, where generous blocks, wide tree-lined streets, and a country atmosphere define the area. Bordering the end of the residential foothills with small acreage properties across the road, it offers the perfect balance of privacy and convenience. Families will appreciate the proximity to excellent schools, shopping, and major facilities, while still enjoying a tucked-away, secluded feel. For those downsizing from acreages, this relatively low-maintenance property still offers a sense of open space, privacy, and tranquillity with no rear neighbours.

Homes in this location do not last long and private inspections are available by appointment after Jan 1st 2025.
