This 1960s-built home in South Launceston is a rare find, reflecting the craftsmanship of a bygone era.

Coming to the market for the very first time, this property has been lovingly cared for by a family of builders. Boasting over 200sqm of space upstairs, a rarity for homes of this era, it features timber floors throughout and a spacious living room of more than 40sqm.

Upstairs, there are 3 bedrooms and 1 bathroom, while the garage below offers nearly 90sqm of additional space which features an additional bathroom space.

From the rear of the property, you'll enjoy exceptional views over South Launceston and towards the city. Ideally located just a short walk to the Door of Hope and Pycsam complex, and only minutes from the Launceston General Hospital and CBD
