Serene Mid-Century Home in Nature's Embrace

Nestled in the rolling green hills of Glendevie, this much-loved brick veneer home, offers a harmonious blend of vintage charm and modern comfort. With its peaceful setting and thoughtfully maintained design, this family home is a true retreat.

Step through the welcoming mudroom-ideal for shedding boots after a walk through the paddocks-into a spacious layout filled with character. The wide hallway leads to two generous living areas, while the large kitchen, with its striking moody black cupboards, is perfect for creating culinary delights. Original vintage light fittings, ornate ceiling roses, and polished blackwood floors throughout add timeless elegance to this mid-century home.

Three of the four bedrooms are spacious, while the fourth is perfectly suited for a study or home office. The vintage bathroom, featuring the original nostalgic enamel bathtub and an IXL tastic, adds a touch of warmth. Additional storage is available in the hall and the spacious laundry, which includes ample cupboards.

This home is built for comfort all year round, with Daikin and Fujitsu reverse cycle air conditioning, a new wood heater, and a heat transfer system that guarantees warmth on frosty winter mornings. Whether you're curled up inside or stepping out into the nature-filled surroundings, every corner of this property brings ease and enjoyment.

Outdoors, nature lovers will be captivated by the all-year creek that runs through the property, surrounded by native grasses and water plants. The soothing sound of trickling water, the chorus of frogs, and bird songs create a peaceful ambiance, while a timid she-oak skink can often be found sunbathing nearby. The expansive gardens offer plenty to enjoy, including a chicken palace, an old orchard featuring cherries, apples, chestnuts, feijoa's and more, and carefully placed screening plants for privacy.

Water is in abundance here, with fresh spring water available year-round, ample tank storage, and a new water pump ensuring your supply is always reliable. The fully insulated and lined garage, complete with a concrete floor, lighting, and power, adds practicality, while a recently installed hot water cylinder provides further modern convenience.

As night falls, take in the beauty of the Aurora Australis from the comfort of your own backyard, a magical sight that adds to the enchantment of this unique property. With borrowed agricultural landscape views and a tranquil, private setting, this mid-century home is both a sanctuary and a family haven, lovingly maintained and thoughtfully renovated in 2021.
